A polarization of Nordic labour market: Recent social and economic trends

An open research seminar Tuesday, 25 September 2018, 12.15-16.30 pm

University of Tampere, Main building, lecture room A2a (Kalevantie 5)

Welcome to listen and discuss the existing evidence on the new developments of labour market polarization in the Nordic countries. The seminar aims at extending the view on working life polarization by including discussion different understandings and dimensions of polarization and by bringing together researchers analyzing the topic empirically and theoretically.

12.15 – 12.30  Opening
Mia Tammelin, Research Director, Work Research Centre, University of Tampere

12.30 – 13.30  The Polarization of the Swedish Labour Market - An agenda for research
Thomas Berglund, Professor, Department of Sociology and Work Science, University of Gothenburg

13.30 – 14.00  Commentary
Rita Asplund, Research Director, Research Institute of the Finnish Economy

14.00 – 14.15  Discussion

14.15 – 14.45  Coffeebreak

14.45 – 15.15  Does ICT usage erode routine occupations at the firm level?
Jari Vainiomäki, Professor, School of Management, University of Tampere

15.15 – 15.45  The future of work in gendered labour market
Armi Mustosmäki, Postdoctoral Researcher, Department of Social Sciences and Philosophy, University of Jyväskylä

15.45 – 16.15  The consequences of labour market polarization on individuals
Merja Kauhanen, Senior Researcher, Labour Institute for Economic Research

16.15 – 16.30  Closing
Antti Saloniemi, Professor, Sociology, University of Tampere

We kindly ask you to register here for the coffee service by September 23. You are warmly welcome!

For more information, please contact Mia Tammelin (mia.tammelin@staff.uta.fi)